Many of the men go to California after completing their course, Prof. Darrow says.

The government hospital which is to be located at Tucson, will work in conjunction with the vocational department at the university, and the two units will make the city a center for disabled ex-soldiers and at larger number of men can be trained in this way. Many of the slightly disabled veterans have come here at their own expense in order to take advantage of the government's training and the climate of southern Arizona.

PAULINE FREDERICK IN A THRILLING PHOTOPLAY.

The struggle between mother love, self-sacrifice and revenge furinshes the main dramatic scenes in Pauline Frederick's unusual Goldwyn picture, "Bonds of Love," which will be presented at the Butler today. Miss Frederick plays the role of governess to a little boy who has lost his mother. Her association with him develops all the mother love in her nature, but she decides to leave the employ of his father when the child's relatives make her position unbearable with the continual reference to the saintly character of the first wife. They accuse employer. But when she saves the child from death in a runaway motorboat and finally when she discovers that the first wife had been untrue to her husband, she is willing to let the husband believe the worst
